The CliftonStrengths at the top of your profile are the most powerful.

These themes represent how you are uniquely talented. They are the starting point for living your strongest life possible.

Develop these CliftonStrengths to maximize your potential

Your greatest chance to succeed — at work or anywhere else — lies in strengthening what you naturally do best and doing more of it.

Start with your top five.

They are your most powerful natural talents.

1. Read everything about your top CliftonStrengths. To make the most of your talents, you first need to understand them and how to describe them to others.
2. Reflect on who you are. Think about your experiences, your motivations and how you see yourself. Then, consider how your CliftonStrengths shape you: what you do, how you do it and why.
3. Use these CliftonStrengths every day. Start with the suggestions in this report for applying your most powerful CliftonStrengths.
4. Watch out for blind spots. Sometimes how you exhibit your strongest CliftonStrengths can cause unintended negative misperceptions. Read the "What Is a Weakness?" section to learn more about preventing your strongest CliftonStrengths from getting in your way.

Then focus on your CliftonStrengths 6-10.

Apply the same strategies to make the most of your next five CliftonStrengths. You will excel and become the absolute best version of yourself when you take a strengths-based approach to your life. Do more of what you do best, and you'll feel more engaged, empowered and energized.

EXECUTING

1. Achiever®

HOW YOU CAN THRIVE

You work hard and possess a great deal of stamina. You take immense satisfaction in being busy and productive.

WHY YOUR ACHIEVER IS UNIQUE

These Strengths Insights are personalized based on your CliftonStrengths results.

By nature, you set aside time to examine past events as well as the lives of historic figures. You probably construct timelines when you need a framework within which to sort through historic evidence. You likely research topics quite thoroughly before you draw any conclusions.

Driven by your talents, you normally toil for hours to produce topnotch results. Being the very best at something is quite important to you. You have little, if any, tolerance for mediocrity, especially about the things that matter most to you.

It's very likely that you conduct yourself in a proper, ethical, legal, and upright manner to avoid feeling you have done something wrong. You truly regret making a mistake, violating a rule, breaking a trust, or producing poor results. You set high standards for yourself in various areas of your life.

Instinctively, you enjoy working on projects that demand a great deal of accuracy and precision. Your strong work ethic impels you to labor until these tasks are done right.

Chances are good that you often go out of your way to stay informed about newsworthy topics. Numerous people probably count on you to tell them about information updates, due dates, meeting changes, or special assignments.

WHY YOU SUCCEED USING ACHIEVER

You love to complete tasks, and your accomplishments fulfill you. You have a strong inner drive — an innate source of intensity, energy and power that motivates you to work hard to get things done.

TAKE ACTION TO MAXIMIZE YOUR POTENTIAL

Bring intensity and effort to the most important areas of your life.

- Set challenging goals. Take advantage of your self-motivation with a more ambitious goal every time you finish a project.
- Take time to celebrate each success before moving on to your next item or task, even for just a few minutes.
- Limit your commitments to projects or assignments that align with your highest priorities as much as you can.
- Be sure to take regular breaks, even though you might be naturally equipped to work harder and longer than others.
- Make sure your to-do lists include tasks and responsibilities beyond work.

WATCH OUT FOR BLIND SPOTS

- You might get frustrated when others don't work as hard as you do, and they might see you as too demanding. Remember that not everyone has the same high expectations for themselves or is driven to work as hard as you are.
- Your pressing need to get things done might cause you to take on projects or agree to deadlines before you know everything that's involved. Before you commit to something, make sure you have the time and resources you need to do it right.

EXECUTING

2. Responsibility®

HOW YOU CAN THRIVE

You take psychological ownership of what you say you will do. You are committed to stable values such as honesty and loyalty.

WHY YOUR RESPONSIBILITY IS UNIQUE

These Strengths Insights are personalized based on your CliftonStrengths results.

Driven by your talents, you might do everything possible to fulfill obligations. Maybe you are thorough and devoted to doing what you promise. This partially explains why people describe you as reliable. To some extent, you have established a reputation for honoring your commitments. Perhaps this causes individuals to trust you more than they trust others.

Because of your strengths, you experience pangs of remorse when you realize you failed to do something you promised to do. You feel awful when you do not do something correctly. You probably regret having compromised your basic values about right and wrong.

Instinctively, you are impelled to deliver on all of your commitments. You are determined to meet all of your obligations. Doing so is your badge of honor. It is one reason why people describe you as trustworthy and dependable.

It's very likely that you are a person upon whom others can depend. When you make a promise, you keep it. You feel obligated to honor your commitments. You do things correctly, accurately, and properly.

By nature, you are held in high regard because of your dependability and consistent values. You are someone upon whom others often rely. Why? You do exactly what you said you would do.

WHY YOU SUCCEED USING RESPONSIBILITY

You have a deep sense of dedication and feel ownership for your commitments. You are a person of your word, and others know they can rely on and trust you.

TAKE ACTION TO MAXIMIZE YOUR POTENTIAL

Take ownership for the things that matter most to you.

- Always check your schedule and to-do list before taking on a new request. This will help you realistically meet all of your commitments without overworking yourself and demonstrate to others that you are serious about your responsibilities.
- Align yourself with those who share your sense of commitment. You will thrive when you are surrounded by others who take their responsibilities as seriously as you do.
- Be an ethical watchdog for your school, organization or community by taking action to eliminate and prevent any unethical behavior you see.
- Let your teacher or manager know that your natural sense of responsibility gives you an exceptional capacity to function independently.
- Be selective. Because you are instinctively responsible, it might be difficult for you to refuse requests from others. Sometimes you need to remind yourself to say no.

WATCH OUT FOR BLIND SPOTS

- Because you find it difficult to turn down others' requests, sometimes you overcommit. Try to manage your Responsibility talents by giving up something before you take on a new task.
- Too many obligations can keep you from spending time with the most important people in your life. Remember that sometimes, no is the best answer for the health of your relationships.

EXECUTING

3. Discipline®

HOW YOU CAN THRIVE

You enjoy routine and structure. Your world is best described by the order you create.

WHY YOUR DISCIPLINE IS UNIQUE

These Strengths Insights are personalized based on your CliftonStrengths results.

By nature, you are quite capable of putting objects, files, the steps of a process, or the parts of a program in their proper order. Frequently you double check your work just to reassure yourself that everything is in its place and every detail is accurate.

Because of your strengths, you are a tactician. You anticipate what needs to be done. Usually you create an action plan to reach your goal. You outline the steps and establish the timelines. Then you execute your plan with precision.

Driven by your talents, you derive satisfaction from working with others to identify goals for individuals, yourself, or the group. You probably want everyone to agree on one process for narrowing down a number of possible objectives to a manageable few. Participating in orderly meetings that produce worthwhile results is a good use of your time. You are apt to dislike chaotic, unstructured sessions where little, if anything, is accomplished.

It's very likely that you usually want things in your life to remain clean and presentable. Keeping your home, workstation, closets, files, or drawers neat is a recurring activity. You probably devise schedules for straightening up specific areas. Often you expect the people you live and work with to care about the space you share as much as you do. Usually you want them to faithfully follow your ongoing cleaning plan.

Chances are good that you regularly establish rules or processes to handle recurring activities as well as tedious tasks. You continually reinforce the fact that no one is exempt from following standard operating procedures.

WHY YOU SUCCEED USING DISCIPLINE

You need organization, order and precision. Your controlled planning and routines increase efficiency and bring predictability and structure to turmoil.

TAKE ACTION TO MAXIMIZE YOUR POTENTIAL

Create structure, and keep things organized.

- Check as often as necessary to ensure that tasks and projects are completed correctly and on time. You feel an urge to do it anyway, and soon enough, others will begin to expect it from you.
- Share your routines and structure. Your detailed lists of tasks, goals and timelines can increase others' efficiency.
- Accept that not many people are as disciplined as you. Instead of letting their processes frustrate you, try to focus on their results and not their methods.
- Look for roles and responsibilities that are structured and predictable.
- Help others add order to their lives. If you are genuine and respectful when you offer to help, they are likely to appreciate it even more.

WATCH OUT FOR BLIND SPOTS

- Because of your need for predictability and control, others might view you as rigid and inflexible. Try not to automatically dismiss ideas that do not directly fit into the neat framework you have created.
- As much as you thrive on structure and organization, others thrive on the freedom to innovate. Be careful about expecting others to follow any structure you put in place.

EXECUTING

4. Deliberative®

HOW YOU CAN THRIVE

You are best described by the serious care you take in making decisions or choices. You anticipate obstacles.

WHY YOUR DELIBERATIVE IS UNIQUE

These Strengths Insights are personalized based on your CliftonStrengths results.

Instinctively, you refrain from sharing much about yourself with others. You are reserved by nature. You prefer to keep your thoughts to yourself. Yet, when the situation demands conversation, you can be talkative and sociable.

It's very likely that you sometimes withhold recognition until you have sufficient proof the recipient has earned it. Perhaps people appreciate your compliments because you give so few of them.

Because of your strengths, you may appear businesslike and earnest. Even so, you sometimes go out of your way to become better acquainted with individuals.

Chances are good that you may be earnest, solemn, or businesslike when circumstances require socially correct behavior. Perhaps you thoroughly study certain things before making decisions, designing plans, or taking action.

Driven by your talents, you divulge your innermost thoughts and feelings to a small, close-knit circle of confidants. With great caution, you expose your beliefs, fears, hopes, desires, failures, worries, dreams, or personal history. Understandably, you are careful to consider all circumstances and possible consequences about what you reveal.

WHY YOU SUCCEED USING DELIBERATIVE

You are thorough and conscientious. Through your natural anticipation and careful thought process, you know how to reduce risks and prevent problems from arising.

TAKE ACTION TO MAXIMIZE YOUR POTENTIAL

Stop, listen and assess before taking action.

- Rely on your good judgment, caution and conservative decision-making during times of change. Your ability to identify and reduce risk is a powerful advantage.
- Be sure to set aside time for yourself. Try this: Reserve 20 minutes each day to sort through your projects, plans and ideas. Use this time to gather information on options, assess different situations or solidify choices you need to make. When you have the opportunity and freedom to calculate, you will make better decisions.
- Help others think through what they want to do. Whatever your role is, you can become a valuable sounding board because you identify and assess potential risks that others might not see.
- Be ready to explain your careful decision-making process. Others might misread your Deliberative talents as tentativeness or fear of action.
- Don't let anyone push you into revealing too much about yourself too soon. You naturally build friendships slowly, so take pride in your small circle of good friends.

WATCH OUT FOR BLIND SPOTS

- Because you take time to think carefully before making a decision, people might perceive you as forgetful, slow or afraid to act. Be prepared to explain that you are none of those things and that you are just considering all of the potential next steps.
- Your cautious and serious outlook on life might give the impression that you are a distant, private and unapproachable person who doesn't give much praise. Keep this in mind, especially when the important people in your life need your approval and validation.

EXECUTING

5. Restorative™

HOW YOU CAN THRIVE

You are adept at dealing with problems. You are good at figuring out what is wrong and resolving it.

WHY YOUR RESTORATIVE IS UNIQUE

These Strengths Insights are personalized based on your CliftonStrengths results.

It's very likely that you might appreciate straightforward people who tell you the truth about yourself and what they think of you. Sometimes you have the courage to ask for and hear their responses. Perhaps you are inclined to concentrate your energy on correcting certain problems, making specific upgrades, or eliminating personal deficiencies.

By nature, you usually spend hours assessing the reasons why you failed or missed a goal. In other instances, you carefully examine why you were caught off guard by a crisis, stalled by a problem, or stymied by an obstacle. When you arm yourself with the right answers, you probably do things much better. You probably break through barriers and succeed.

Chances are good that you center your efforts on making improvements that you decide are intriguing and relevant to your life. You devote a great deal of time and energy to acquiring the knowledge and skills that you sense you lack. You regularly challenge yourself to address your shortcomings.

Driven by your talents, you search for opportunities to improve yourself. You are determined to confront your weak points and correct them.

Because of your strengths, you regularly study your mistakes. You want to understand what you must do differently in the future to succeed.

WHY YOU SUCCEED USING RESTORATIVE

You love to solve problems. Your ability to analyze a situation, identify potential shortcomings and modify as needed makes you powerful in times of difficulty and crisis.

TAKE ACTION TO MAXIMIZE YOUR POTENTIAL

Remember that every problem has a solution. Find the answers.

- Look for roles in which your success depends on your ability to solve problems. You might particularly enjoy medicine, consulting, computer programming or customer service.
- Seek out tough turnaround situations that others might avoid. You will enjoy the challenge of revitalizing something, and you will build your reputation as a valuable partner.
- Celebrate your successes. Difficult problems might entice you, but also acknowledge easy-to-solve issues that have big results.
- Tell others that you enjoy fixing problems, and offer to help. Many people shy away from difficulties, but problem-solving comes naturally to you.
- Give yourself a break. You might be overly self-critical and your own toughest critic. Try to redirect your energy toward things about yourself that you know you can fix or toward external, tangible problems.

WATCH OUT FOR BLIND SPOTS

- Others might think that all you see are their flaws and shortcomings. Remember that there are times when people need you to see their successes and give them praise.
- You tend to focus on processes, not people, and you might automatically rush to solve every problem. Sometimes others need to solve their own problems, so try to give people space to experiment and find their own solutions.

EXECUTING

6. Consistency®

HOW YOU CAN THRIVE

You are keenly aware of the need to treat people the same. You crave stable routines and clear rules and procedures that everyone can follow.

WHY YOU SUCCEED USING CONSISTENCY

You can easily and quickly make judgments and create systems that are fair to everyone. As a result, others know what to expect from you.

TAKE ACTION TO MAXIMIZE YOUR POTENTIAL

Create fair systems to establish and build trust.

- Look for opportunities at work or in your community to help disadvantaged people get the platform they need to show their true potential. Your talent to quickly and easily make judgments that are fair to everyone helps ensure equality.
- Always stand up for what you believe, even in the face of strong resistance. Others will appreciate your commitment to consistency between what you promise and what you deliver.
- Create simple rules and boundaries that help people know what is expected and how they need to operate in ambiguous situations. Your talent for making things fair and equal creates stability and clarity.

WATCH OUT FOR BLIND SPOTS

- You are so committed to treating each person the same that you might forget that no two people are alike. Remember that different things motivate different people, and everyone has their own way of thinking and relating to others.
- You may see yourself as a guardian of what is right and a champion against special treatment. Realize that others may reject you for assuming that responsibility and will want to bend the rules for the greater good.

STRATEGIC THINKING

7. Analytical®

HOW YOU CAN THRIVE

You search for reasons and causes. You have the ability to think about all of the factors that might affect a situation.

WHY YOU SUCCEED USING ANALYTICAL

Your natural ability to investigate, diagnose and identify patterns results in valuable insights that are logical and well-thought-out. Your critical thinking helps clarify reality and provides objectivity.

TAKE ACTION TO MAXIMIZE YOUR POTENTIAL

Use your logical, objective approach to make important decisions.

- Identify credible sources you can rely on. Find helpful books, websites, experts or other resources that you can use as references.
- Get involved in the planning stages of a new initiative or project so you can evaluate its feasibility and direction before it gets too far along.
- Accept that sometimes you will need to take action before all the facts are in place.

WATCH OUT FOR BLIND SPOTS

- Your objective and fact-based approach to decision-making may seem skeptical or critical. Keep in mind that others will have emotional, subjective and personal opinions — and that their input is just as valuable as yours is.
- Because you ask many questions, people may think that you always doubt the validity of their ideas, that you do not trust them and that you are tough to work with. Explain your analysis so they will be more likely to trust your process and your motives.

EXECUTING

8. Focus®

HOW YOU CAN THRIVE

You can take a direction, follow through and make the corrections necessary to stay on track. You prioritize, then act.

WHY YOU SUCCEED USING FOCUS

You have a powerful ability to prioritize, set goals and work efficiently. You avoid time-consuming distractions and stay on track toward an overall objective.

TAKE ACTION TO MAXIMIZE YOUR POTENTIAL

Set specific goals with timelines to motivate yourself.

- Attach timelines and measurements to your goals, and keep track of your progress. Regularly meeting your objectives will prove that you are moving forward and inspire you to do more.
- Try putting a daily “power hour” of complete focus on your calendar each week. During this hour, turn off all your social media alerts, get away from your email, find a committed space and work toward one important goal — and nothing else.
- Write down your goals and refer to them often. You will feel more in control of your life.

WATCH OUT FOR BLIND SPOTS

- You may focus so intently on your own work that you don’t notice when goals and priorities change. Remember to occasionally stop what you’re doing so you can re-evaluate your objectives.
- When you are absorbed in something, you may be slow to respond to others’ immediate needs and appear emotionally distant. Acknowledge that sometimes, you will have to stop and respond to interruptions from the important people in your life.

RELATIONSHIP BUILDING

9. Individualization®

HOW YOU CAN THRIVE

You are intrigued with the unique qualities of each person. You have a gift for figuring out how different people can work together productively.

WHY YOU SUCCEED USING INDIVIDUALIZATION

You notice and appreciate each person's unique characteristics, and you don't treat everyone the same. Because you can see what makes each individual unique, you know how to bring out their best.

TAKE ACTION TO MAXIMIZE YOUR POTENTIAL

Appreciate the uniqueness in each person you meet.

- Become an expert at describing your own strengths and style. What is the best praise you ever received? What is your best method for building relationships? How do you learn best?
- Ask your coworkers and friends these same questions. Help them create a future based on their strengths and what they do best.
- See the talents in others, and encourage them to follow their dreams. Help individuals understand and maximize the power of their talents.

WATCH OUT FOR BLIND SPOTS

- You often know more about others than they know about you, and when people don't naturally show awareness of your likes, dislikes, motivations and needs, this may disappoint you. Recognize that you will need to share your preferences with people, and don't assume they will instinctively know.
- Your natural impulse is to put individual needs and goals ahead of what is best for the group. To prevent the appearance of favoritism and bias, acknowledge that sometimes you will need to adjust your style for the greater good.

STRATEGIC THINKING

10. Input®

HOW YOU CAN THRIVE

You have a need to collect and archive. You may accumulate information, ideas, artifacts or even relationships.

WHY YOU SUCCEED USING INPUT

You seek and store information. Your pursuit of mastery and access to knowledge empowers you to make credible and well-informed decisions.

TAKE ACTION TO MAXIMIZE YOUR POTENTIAL

Keep exploring; always be curious.

- Find out more about areas you want to specialize in. Consider jobs or volunteer opportunities where you can acquire and share information every day, such as teaching, journalism or research work.
- Regularly read books and articles that motivate you. Increase your vocabulary by collecting new words and learning their meaning.
- Devise a system to store and easily locate information you have found so you can access it quickly. Use whatever approach works best for you — a file for articles you have saved, a database or spreadsheet, or a list of your favorite websites.

WATCH OUT FOR BLIND SPOTS

- Unrestrained input can lead to intellectual or physical clutter. Consider occasionally taking inventory and purging what you don't need so that your surroundings — and your mind — don't become overloaded.
- You might have a tendency to give people so much information or so many resources that you can overload and overwhelm them. Before you share your discoveries with others, consider sorting out what is most meaningful so they don't lose interest.

Your greatest opportunity to reach your full potential is developing and using your strongest CliftonStrengths. But it is also important to understand all 34 of your CliftonStrengths themes.

Your unique CliftonStrengths 34 profile

The themes toward the top of your CliftonStrengths 34 profile might show up regularly in your life, and the ones closer to the bottom might not show up at all.

To fully understand your talent DNA, consider how all your CliftonStrengths themes, separately or in combination, influence your work and personal life. In addition to concentrating on your top 10 themes:

- Navigate the middle. You might notice these CliftonStrengths themes in your behaviors from time to time. And you may need to rely on them in certain situations. Think of these themes as a support system you can use when you need to.
- Manage the bottom. Just as your top CliftonStrengths show you who you are, those at the bottom may tell you who you are not. They aren't necessarily weaknesses, but they are your least powerful themes. If you don't manage them properly, they could prevent you from maximizing your potential.
- Identify weaknesses. To determine if any themes are getting in your way, review the "What Is a Weakness?" section on the next page, and find out how to overcome potential obstacles to your success.

To learn more about your entire CliftonStrengths profile, see the "Your CliftonStrengths 34 Theme Sequence" section at the end of the report.

Focusing on your CliftonStrengths doesn't mean you can ignore your weaknesses.

Gallup defines a weakness as anything that gets in the way of your success.

While the CliftonStrengths assessment does not mathematically quantify weaknesses, you can use your profile to understand how any of your CliftonStrengths themes might prevent you from maximizing your potential.

Your strongest CliftonStrengths are your best opportunity for success. But in some situations and with some people, these same themes can hinder your effectiveness and become blind spots.

The themes at the bottom of your profile can also get in the way of your success. They aren't necessarily weaknesses, but they likely do not come naturally to you.

To identify potential weaknesses, ask yourself:

- Does this theme ever undermine my success?
- Have I ever received negative feedback related to this theme?
- Does my role require me to use this theme, but I feel drained when I do?

If you answered yes to any of these questions, you may be discovering areas of weakness. Don't ignore your weaknesses. Instead, focus on your strengths, and work to manage the areas that get in your way.

How do I manage my weaknesses?

- Claim them: Know your weaknesses and how they get in your way
- Collaborate: Ask partners for support
- Apply a strength: Use a different theme to achieve a better outcome
- Just do it: Lean in and do your best

Identify Your Unique Contribution: The CliftonStrengths® Domains

While your CliftonStrengths 34 profile helps you understand who you are, there is also power in knowing how you make things happen, influence others, build relationships and process information. The framework of the four CliftonStrengths domains — Executing, Influencing, Relationship Building and Strategic Thinking — is another way to think about your CliftonStrengths and how you contribute when you join, create or lead a team.

The best teams are made up of individuals who understand their own — and others' — unique contribution to the team. This awareness and appreciation empowers the team to be more cohesive, versatile, productive and engaged.

However, be careful not to let the four domains limit your thinking. If you don't have any top themes in a particular domain, don't worry. That doesn't mean you can't think strategically or build relationships, for example. Everyone accomplishes tasks, influences others, builds relationships and processes information. You just use your stronger themes in different domains to get to the same outcome.

The next page shows you how your unique CliftonStrengths profile sorts into the four domains. Knowing which domain you lead with can help you understand your most powerful contribution.

The CliftonStrengths Domains

EXECUTING

People with dominant Executing themes make things happen.

INFLUENCING

People with dominant Influencing themes take charge, speak up and make sure others are heard.

RELATIONSHIP BUILDING

People with dominant Relationship Building themes build strong relationships that hold a team together and make it greater than the sum of its parts.

STRATEGIC THINKING

People with dominant Strategic Thinking themes absorb and analyze information that informs better decisions.

You lead with Executing CliftonStrengths® themes.

You know how to “catch” an idea and make it a reality.

This chart shows the relative distribution of your unique CliftonStrengths 34 results across the four domains. These categories are a good starting point for you to examine where you have the most potential to perform with excellence and how you can best contribute to a team.

See chart below for more detail about your CliftonStrengths by domain.
